We proclaim the reign of God in this community by preaching, teaching the good news and celebrating our Roman Catholic worship. We witness the faith by demonstrating service and compassion for those in need. As Community we welcome, honor and respect all people with the special emphasis on the culture and heritage of the African American and Hispanic Catholics.

~ REFLECTION ~

As summer turns to autumn, many of the Gospel selections we hear concern themselves with the Last Judgment. Our worthiness for eternal life in heaven can be indicated by the way we treat each other and the way we handle our possessions. As we celebrate today's Eucharist, let us reflect on whether we are using our wealth for the benefit of others or if our pursuit of wealth is blinding us to the needs of our neighbor

~ REFLEXION ~

Ahora que el verano se ha convertido en otoño muchos de los pasajes del Evangelio que escuchamos se refieren al Juicio Final. La manera en que tratamos a los demás y manejamos nuestros bienes puede ser indicio de nuestra dignidad para recibir la vida eterna en el cielo. En nuestra celebración de la Eucaristía hoy consideremos si estamos usando nuestro dinero para el beneficio de otras personas o si nuestra búsqueda de riquezas nos tiene ciegos frente a las necesidades de nuestro prójimo.

Did You Know?

What constitutes a concern worth reporting? Parents have a responsibility to report concerns they have about another person's behaviors or actions that could put their children — or any children — at risk. These concerns are anything that makes the parent uneasy or uncomfortable, or anything that a child reports made them feel uneasy or uncomfortable. Some examples of seemingly little things that can be worth reporting include: A teacher covering her glass classroom door with artwork, eliminating the ability to see into the classroom from the hall; a youth ministry icebreaker activity, where teens have to pass a mint candy from person to person using only toothpicks in their mouth, despite the discomfort of some participants

Sabia Usted? ¿Qué constituye una preocupación que vale la pena reportar? Los padres de familia tienen la responsabilidad de reportar las inquietudes que tengan sobre los comportamientos o las acciones de otra persona que pudieran poner en riesgo a sus hijos, o a cualquier niño. Estas inquietudes son cualquier cosa que haga que el padre o la madre se sienta incómodo/a, o cualquier cosa que el/la niño/a reporte que le haga sentir incómodo/a. Algunos ejemplos de cosas aparentemente pequeñas que pueden valer la pena informar incluyen: Una maestra que cubre la puerta de vidrio de su aula con obras de arte, eliminar la posibilidad de ver hacia adentro del aula desde el pasillo. Además, una actividad para romper el hielo en el ministerio juvenil, donde los adolescentes deben pasar un caramelo de menta de persona a persona usando solo palillos de dientes en la boca, a pesar de la incomodidad de algunos participantes.
